

IMAGINE YOUR RELATIVE LIVING THERE??

Are the other residents at a similar stage to your relative or would your Mum feel as though she were in 'One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest'?

Are the residents doing anything? Or have they been left to sit in front of a television for hours on end?

Ask to see the activities timetable. If it shows a church service, the hairdressers or 'one-to-ones' as activities, you should avoid. These are not 'activities' but excuses.

When you walk into the lounge, what are people doing? Is it God's waiting room?

Are people calling out for help? Is there any stimulation?

Do you honestly think your parent going to fit in?
